Here are some of the names I've put on my paperwork the last nine months as my "co-driver". They gathered a few of them up and printed them in the company newsletter one month.

A few I have borrowed from Garrison Keillor or from "Car Talk" on public radio, but when I look through them, by golly, most of 'em are my own.

I keep thinking I'm done. I'm out of new ones. But then out of the blue another one will pop up.

(Keep 'em coming!!! – ed.)
